The meeting of the committee was held in connection with a prohibition conference to which had been invited all prohibitionists in the state and others interested. The gathering was concluded with a banquet Monday evening.

HIBERNIANS HAVE MENTEN DANCE

Annual St. Patrick's Day Ball Attended by a Large Crowd at Armory, Given Under Auspices of Division No. 2.

For all the years, now nearly a quarter of a century, that Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, has made it their custom to observe St. Patrick's day with a ball, success in this social feature of their year has been the record, and on Monday night at the armory it was no exception to the rule when the division gave its 24th annual ball. The closing hour of 11 a. m. the big drill shed was thronged with a merry crowd of dancers whose numbers approximated 1,000, according to the indications of the ticket sale reports.

The decorations were in the national colors, mingled with the green of Ireland, the whole harmoniously arranged under the supervision of D. J. Hinchey and Jeremiah J. Desmond, and kindly loaned for the occasion through the courtesy of The Porteous & Mitchell company. The decorative scheme was carried out on the elevated band stand with the letters A. O. H. in electric lights against a pale green background. Wide streamers of bunting were gracefully looped from the center to the side walls and along the walls were flags with clusters of American and Irish flags. On the wall at the far end of the shed were a number of green shields with the gold and the hand-green and gold will flag of the division was displayed on the side wall. For the opening hour from 8 to 9 the following concert programme was finely rendered by Miller's full orchestra: March, Characteristic. Valse, Milliere. Overture. Introduction and Tarantell. At 9 o'clock the orchestra struck up the music of the opening two-step of the programme of 18 numbers, and from then on to the end their inspiring strains kept the dancers busy and were the signal for many encores. Professor Maher prompted for the two square dances in each half.

Rev. J. H. Fitzmaurice and Rev. W. H. Kennedy of St. Mary's parish were honored guests for a portion of the evening, and other guests were the officers of the First division and Mrs. Mary L. Stiney, president of the Ladies' auxiliary of the A. O. H.

President Frank J. Murtha of the Second division, in his capacity of master of ceremonies and chairman of the arrangement committee, had each detail carefully arranged for and carried out with the capable assistance of the following committees: Floor director, John E. RECEPTION TO PASTOR

AND BURNING OF MORTGAGE.

Important Event in Lowell Church of Which Rev. F. H. Rose is the Minister.

Last Wednesday evening the Immanuel Baptist church of Lowell gave its annual reception to its pastor, Rev. F. H. Rose, formerly of this city, and at the same time the mortgage of $1,000 which has been carried by the church for years was burned, thus placing an important speech in the church's history.

The Lowell Courier-Citizen said: It was indeed satisfying, equally so to the members and pastor, to look upon the tiny flame eating up and wiping away in ashes in less than a minute's time the parchment which had at one time threatened to take away the use of the building for religious work.

The first speaker, Rev. Asa R. Dills, recalled an occasion a little over two years ago when the closing of the church was considered owing to the need of funds. At that time things looked black, but with the coming of Rev. Mr. Rose things took a turn for the better and it was not long before the pastor and his people were showing the right spirit. He closed by paying Rev. Mr. Rose a high compliment for his work. Rev. E. A. Macdonald and Rev. N. W. Matthews both paid high compliments to pastor and people.

A feature in connection with the evening's happy events was the presentation to the pastor of a beautiful watch fob by Guy McQuade, superintendent, in behalf of the Junior C. E. society of the church. The church was organized in 1895, and Rev. Mr. Rose has been pastor there for two years. A picture of the church and pastor accompanied the account of the affair.

Rev. Robert F. True of the Third Baptist church is a former pastor of the Immanuel church at Lowell.

RESERVOIR CONTINUES

TO SHOW A GAIN.

Two Inch Increase Noted on Monday, With Only Slight Decrease at Meadow Brook.

The measurement of the water at Fairview reservoir on Monday showed it to be 72 inches below high water mark, a gain of two inches since Sunday, while Meadowbrook showed 70 inches below the high water mark. The water above the 24 inch pipe, indicating that it will continue to send a large quantity to Fairview for several days.

Supt. Corker still has hopes of the reservoir filling, and would prefer that it did not fill until the first of June. It could be assured then. None of the water is being wasted there, however, and with a few more heavy rains of spring time a much better condition than the present is expected.

CARROLL WINS AND LOSES.

Secured His Game at Pool with Swan but Lost to Williams.

G. Wyman Carroll has returned from a stay at Saranac lake and on Monday played two of his games in the pool tournament at the Arcanum club. He had a chance by winning his six games to get into a position for a prize, or tie for such a position, but he lost his game in the evening with Williams, which makes him four lost and eight won. Williams won $6 to $15. In the afternoon Carroll defeated Swan 120 to 57. He has Parsons to play, each to make 120 to win, and much depends on that game whether Parsons gets first place or is tied with several others for that position. Williams and Swan have completed their games, each having won and lost eight games.

TEST ALARM AND ACTUAL

FIRE AT SAME TIME.

Auto Chemical Car Went to Backus Hospital in Four Minutes—Mixup on the Alarms.

By a plan to test the new chemical wagon it was decided by the city and fire department officials Monday morning to send in an alarm from a box on the outskirts without the firemen knowing it previously. This was done, but a few minutes later an alarm for a fire in McKinley avenue came in, and the box number not being read by the companies which responded correctly there was a delay on their part in arriving, but there were no serious consequences, as it was only a chimney fire.

The test was successful, it being found that the auto, driven by Driver Lindberg, made the Backus hospital and had a stream on in four minutes from the striking of the alarm. The chemical company from the Falls, horse driven, arrived about the same time. The alarm was from box 32, at the Backus hospital, and that fact caused much excitement and some people hired carriages and drove to the institution because they had relatives therein.

While Chief Stanton was about to send in the recall for that alarm he heard another alarm being ticked off in the box and it was thought to be 37. At that box there was no trouble and it was then thought to be 27. This sent the companies down through the city and up to Greenville, but there was no trouble, but the Greenville companies responding to the second alarm gave the right box, No. 38, and the auto was quickly there. Chemical company No. 2, from the West Side, which had covered the central station, responded to the fire and soon had it out. It was a chimney fire at No. 110 McKinley avenue, owned by G. R. Hamlin.

The mayor and fire commissioners were at the hospital and watched the arrival of the apparatus, the auto being driven so fast that the driver, not being familiar with the location, had to pass the hospital gate and back up to get into the drive. The speed in Broadway was up to 55 miles an hour, and on return it was unusually much faster than the machine will be operated through the city in the future.

It is probable that Driver Lindberg will complete his services here today, after having been here a week, giving the last of his instructions. The car worked fine in every particular, and would have had a run, any way, had the test alarm not been sounded.
